Wir schaffen Perspektiven

Vocational Exit and Orientation Counselling for Women

Target Group and Offer

Content

Supported by the job centre and the Health Department of the regional capital Stuttgart, our Plan P project offers vocational exit and orientation counselling.

Plan P aims to reach women who want to exit, or have exited, prostitution and who seek new vocational options. The project provides individual exit counselling and vocational orientation as well as clarification of qualification requirements while considering personal living conditions.

The non-profit company ZORA gGmbH opens up vocational and social integration for women in disadvantaged living conditions through employment, vocational training, qualifications and counselling.

ZORA gGmbH also supports a day-care facility for children up to school age.

The Plan P project offers participants the following, tailored to their individual circumstances:

- Comprehensive profiling with determination of current situation, aptitude analysis and exit check
- Process-, resource- and solution-oriented counselling to prepare for the job market
- Information on job market, job profiles and orientation counselling
- Possibility to take part in the ZORA education programme
- Support for job applications
- Mediation in work, vocational training and further qualification measures
- Stabilisation of vocational changes
- Mediation of practical life skills
- in individual cases, counselling for members of a needs community

Plan P is a vocational advisory service. Psychosocial and everyday problem areas are transferred to the help system.
